Langdon D. Fernald, Principal

To the Class of '57:

"May we e'er be true and loyal in the days to be" — so many times have these words been sung by you but never with the feeling that will well up within you on graduation night. The "days to be" will then beaborning and you will be awakened to a new sense of import to that which has been taken for granted over the past four years. Education is a privilege—not a responsibility. Have you taken advantage of your every opportunity? The answer lies within you. What you are to be you are now becoming. If any of us as administrators or teachers have not lent a hand to help you on the way, I trust that we have done nothing to push you back.

You have experienced four wonderful years — you have built up tremendous friendships — you will always remember your high school days. You will also remember that yours will be the last class to be graduated from the present Lyman Hall High School and its double session which started as a temporary expedient 26 years ago. I hope that in the "days to be" you will not find that you have been too seriously handicapped because of having been denied the full experiences of a normal high school program.

Sincerely yours,
Langdon D. Fernald,
Principal

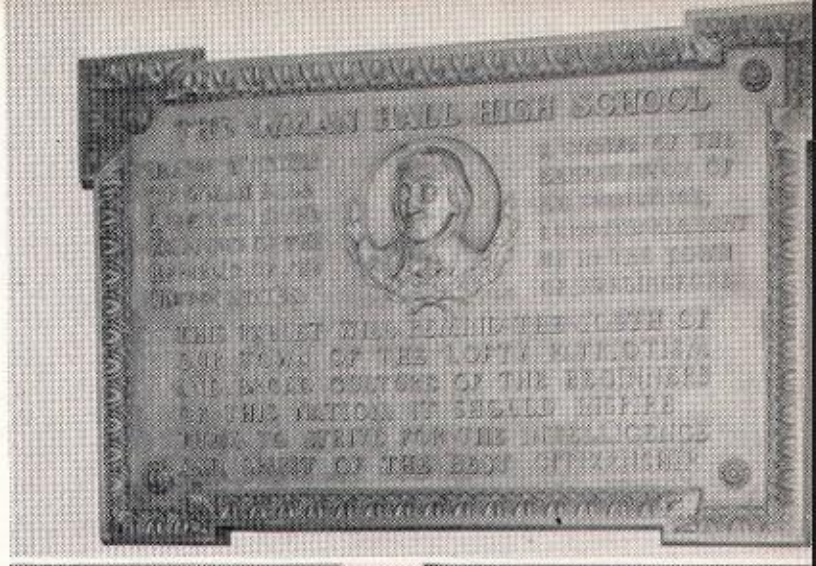
This – Our First Floor

Enter the double red doors. Welcome! Ascend the short flight of stairs and turn to your left. Passing through the corridor, you will first come to the principal's office. Almost everyone has some business which takes him here. Teachers, administration, pupils, and visitors mingle here daily. Farther on are math classes — plane geometry, algebra, solid geometry, mechanical drawing, trigonometry. Language classes, too, are held on this first floor. What is your pleasure? There is Latin, French, Spanish, and English. Commercial classes are held here for future secretaries and clerks. The music department follows. Here is the music storage room, and there, the music room. At almost any time of day you hear a wisp of tune someone is practicing for band, orchestra, chorus, or music lessons. Passing completely around the centrally located auditorium, you arrive at the Dean's open door. Guidance and friendliness await you here.



Meet the pride

BAND

President .....Ronald Theriault
Vice-President .....Richard Fanning
Secretary-Treasurer .....Jeanne Warren
Librarians .....Rose Tencza, Roberta Lanzoni
Band Manager .....Henry Massey
Drum Major .....Theodore Runge

The band, which is the pride of Lyman Hall, played at all the home football games in October. Other activities of the year included several music assemblies before the student body, the Midwinter Concert, the Pops Concert, the Spring Concert, the Memorial Day Parade, and the Doolittle Park Concert in June. A number of its members participated in the All-State festival in Hartford this year.

TWIRLERS

The twirlers, both Junior Varsity and Varsity squads, work on drills and practice routines during the fifth period every Friday. The girls participate with the band at festivals, concerts, and parades.

JUNIOR PLAY

The Class of 1958, under the direction of Miss Ruth E. Dunlap, presented a three-act comedy entitled "Come Rain or Shine" on November 30 and December 1. David Engstom was the general chairman of the play.

"Come Rain or Shine" was an up-to-the-minute story of an amusing American family trying to enjoy a summer vacation at the lake. Of course, each member of the family had a different idea as to what makes a summer vacation worthwhile.

PLAY CAST

First row: Allyn Golub, James Orefice, Beverly Tarrant, Janet Orefice, Fred Gifford, Robert Asman, Maryann McPherson, Allan Lovejoy.

SENIOR PLAY

The class of '57 sponsored "A Change of Heart," a three-act comedy by Marijane and Joseph Hayes, on March 29 and 30. The play was directed by Miss Ruth Dunlap, dramatic coach, and Pat Regan, the general chairman, was assisted by several committees to make the play a success.

GIRLS' LEAGUE EXECUTIVE BOARD

President ..... Mary Ann Lanzoni
Vice-President ..... Terezia Wrinn
Secretary ..... Mary Sommers
Treasurer ..... Janet Morin

The Girls' League, under the leadership of the four officers and the executive board, consisting of approximately 30 members, is an organization open to every girl in Lyman Hall.

The officers are elected at the end of each scholastic year for the coming year. The representatives are elected in the beginning of each year in the homerooms.

Among the various activities presented annually by the Girls' League are: the Christmas Formal; the clothing drive; the Christmas Pageant; the Talent Show; the Fashion Show; the Pan American Day Program; and the initiation of the new officers which is held in May.

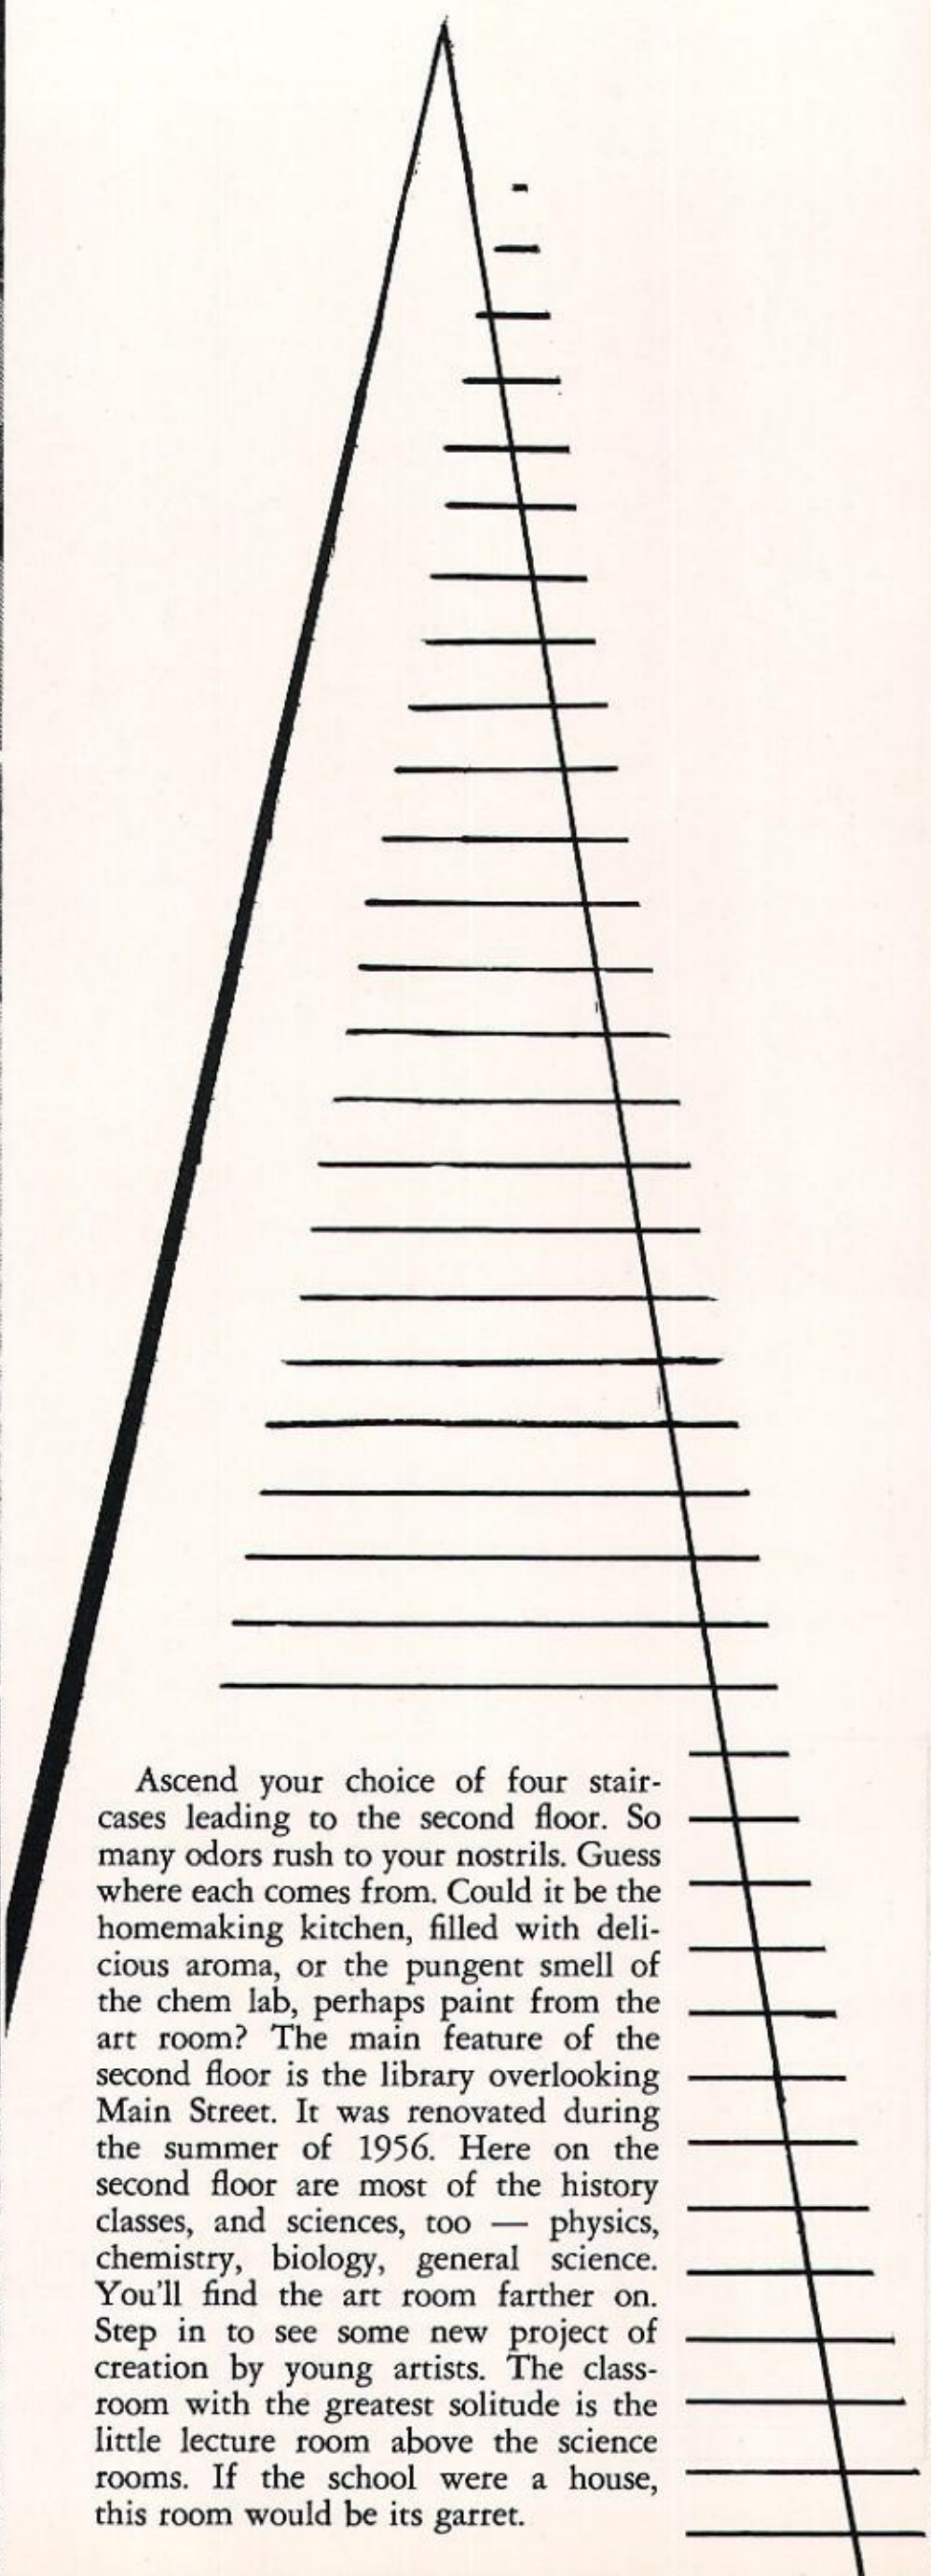
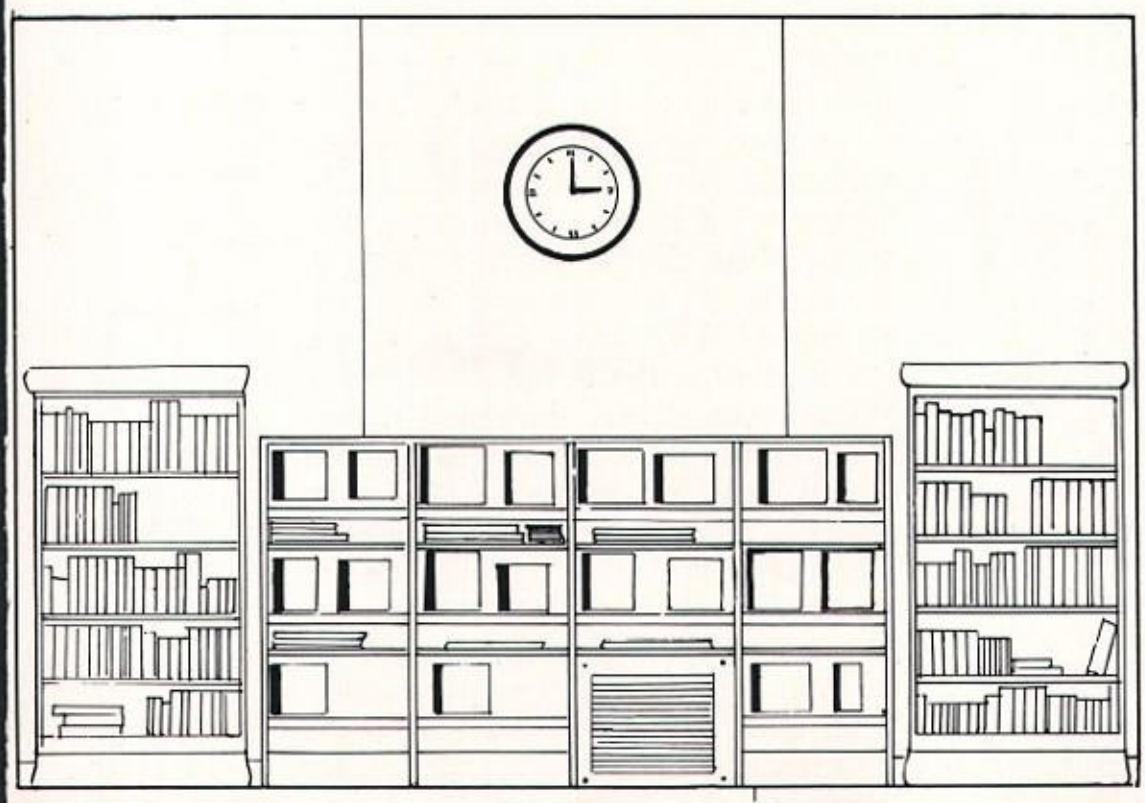
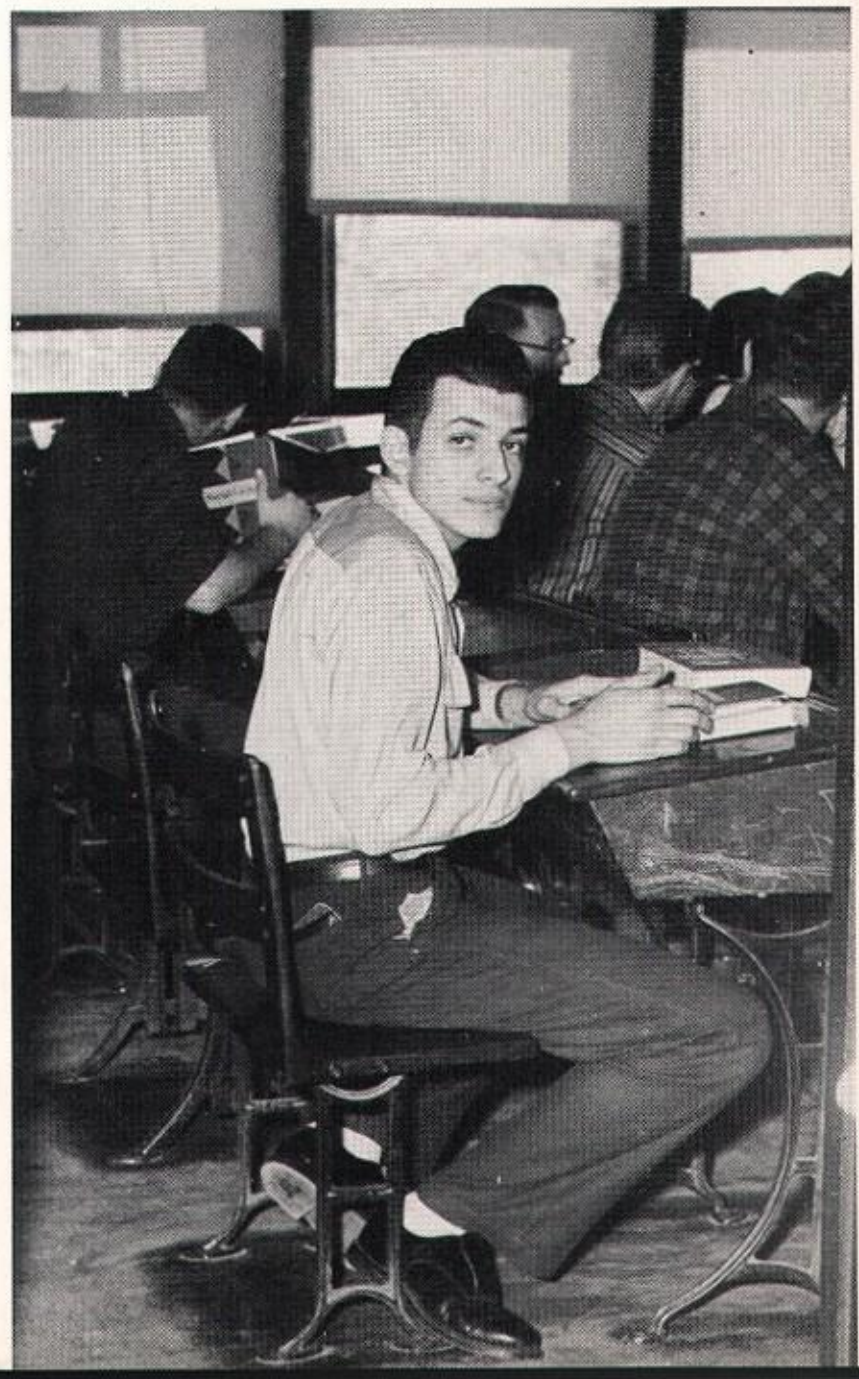
Here – The Second Floor



Ascend your choice of four staircases leading to the second floor. So many odors rush to your nostrils. Guess where each comes from. Could it be the homemaking kitchen, filled with delicious aroma, or the pungent smell of the chem lab, perhaps paint from the art room? The main feature of the second floor is the library overlooking Main Street. It was renovated during the summer of 1956. Here on the second floor are most of the history classes, and sciences, too — physics, chemistry, biology, general science. You'll find the art room farther on. Step in to see some new project of creation by young artists. The classroom with the greatest solitude is the little lecture room above the science rooms. If the school were a house, this room would be its garret.





PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

President .....Alan Drescher
Vice-President .....Gail Sittnick
Secretary-Treasurer ....Carol Rudolph
Advisor .....Mr. Abeshouse

The Photography Club this year is quite large compared to other years when there were only four or five members.

The year was started off with the basic camera components and picture taking methods, and worked up to the more complicated lens and shutter settings of the modern cameras. This was done by having films and slides on these topics, and by the members bringing in their own cameras and snapshots and discussing them.

Each year the club sponsors the photo contest. Any student in Lyman Hall may participate in the contest and there is always a very wide selection of photos to judge.

First row: Elba Cruz, Jane Worthington, Gail Sittnick, Alan Drescher, Carol Rudolph, Trina Aparisi.
Second row: Carole Dubiell, Kathé Docker, Evelyn Bruning, Sandra Rosenblatt, Patricia Powers, Beatrice Maslowski.
Third row: William Broe, Aivar Kleinhoff, JoAnn DeRoy, Charles Kelman, Francis Sabo.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club, under the supervision of Mr. Kozak, started at the beginning of this year and now is in full swing.

During the meetings, under the presidency of Pat Tencza, any necessary business is taken up. Dues are collected, a fee of twenty-five cents per meeting. After business is taken care of, the club divides into four groups. One group, under Philip Hax, experiments with electricity; another, under Ed Tramont, works with the Biscope, and another, under the supervision of Norman Hines, works with various chemicals.

John Burns and Terri Wrinn, elected chairmen for field trips, planned some places for the club to visit.

William Komm, head of the "Periodical," collects scientific information on experiments performed by the group. The experience of working together, between staff and reporters, proves valuable to all.

The club meets during Activity Period twice a month.

First row: Marilyn Lucas, Phyllis Miles, Patricia Tencza, Edmund Tramont, Eleanor Moslow, Judith Kapish.

First row: Julia Johnson, Mary Ann Jerserski, Marieanna Wells, Jane Watson, Joan Watson, Sara Worthington, Carol Isbister.
Second row: Mary Lou MacArther, Jane Williams, Karen Moore, Martha Rose, Lynne Konopka, Noreen Marsh, Maureen Sheehy, Edith Pogmore, Rosemary DeAngelis.

FUTURE NURSES' CLUB

President .....Lynne Konopka
Vice-President .....Martha Rose
Secretary .....Karen Moore
Treasurer .....Noreen Marsh

The Future Nurses' Club had its beginning at Lyman Hall three years ago. This club was set up as a service aid. The service consists of making favors for hospitals on special holidays, having cake sales, and helping the community nurses. Just three years ago it was decided that a Future Nurses' Club Scholarship should be given to two deserving girls in the club who plan to take up nursing after graduation from high school. The fund started out as a small one of $20, worked its way up to $60, and will probably become a well-known scholarship in the future.

Standing: Ann Madar, Janet Passarino, Geraldine Russell, Fay Lentz, Phyllis Miles, Eleanor Thurrott, Lois Psykatay, Lynne Konopka, Judith Dechert, Valerie Rondina, Jo-Ann Cerrone, Joan Moran, Mary Galko.
Seated: Dorette Grace, Julie Ann Svab, Elizabeth Grana.

020 CLUB

President .....Julie Ann Svab
Vice-President .....Dorette Grace
Secretary .....Elizabeth Grana
Advisor .....Mrs. Dooley

The 020 Club has been in existence for only a few years. This year the membership has increased. There are now eighteen members from both the morning and afternoon sessions. The purpose is for the students to learn the care and the location of the different types of books. The members this year sponsored a cake sale.

Eleven of the members attended the first of two Connecticut Nutmeg 020 Club meetings which was held at North Haven High School. There was an Initiation Ceremony in which the presidents from the various schools were initiated.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

President	Susan Rubin
Vice-President	Janet Orefice
Secretary	Barbara Zesk
Treasurer	Karen Rose
Sponsor	Miss Kennedy

The Lyman Hall Chapter of the National Honor Society was formed in 1955. The organization helps create an enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulates a desire to render service, promotes worthy leadership, and encourages the development of character in pupils of Lyman Hall High School.

Included in the group's activities are the induction ceremonies, which are held twice during the year when all new members are officially received into the society.

Each person elected to the society receives a membership card and a gold pin which signifies his achievement. It is impressed on all members who are elected into the National Honor Society that it is not only for his career in the secondary school, but for life — and that he, as a student and a graduate of the high school, going out into life, will be held to the pledge as a member of the National Honor Society, no matter where he goes—no matter what he becomes.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President .....Richard Fanning
Vice-President .....Donald Johnson
Secretary .....Betty Sommers
Treasurer .....Jean Fanfesti

The Student Council is the student governing body of Lyman Hall High School. It is composed of twelve seniors, eleven juniors, ten sophomores, and eight freshmen. The members are elected each year by their respective classes and must attend meetings held every Friday during the fourth period.

The purpose of this organization is to promote school spirit, to establish better relationships between the students and the faculty, and to improve school conditions.

The projects that the council has engaged in are varied and numerous. The A.A. drive and the insurance plan are regulated by the members. Meetings have been held with representatives from the grade schools to develop ways of improving the dress and grooming habits of some students. Other projects have included the sale of refreshments during the home basketball games, joint meetings with the Choate Student Council to try to improve relations between Lyman Hall and Choate, and the sponsoring of Student Council dances throughout the year.

The members are engaged in other council work, such as suggesting ideas for the development of the Student Council in the new high school; the purchasing of a television set for the use of the school; the regulation of traffic in the halls; and the arrangements for the various auditorium programs during the year.

The "Compass" is the Lyman Hall High School newspaper. Each month issues carry news of the latest accomplishments of the students and details of the activities of the various departments and clubs of the school.

Activities of the Compass staff, besides producing the newspaper, have been trips to newspapers and reading a "Compass Newscast" over the school public address system each week in order to keep news up-to-date between publications.

Now – The Lower Level

One level below the first floor is the basement. The gym, renovated also during the summer of 1956, is here, flanked by the metal shop on the left, and the wood-working shop on the right. On the opposite ends of the basement are the locker-rooms — girls' and boys', each with its shuffle and voices. Because of the small seating capacity in the gym, all basketball games are held in the State Armory.

FOOTBALL

Despite the fact that Lyman Hall's record was 2-4-1, the season was a success from the standpoint of winning the close rivalry game from North Haven 7-6. Injuries plagued the Hallites throughout the season and they never actually got rolling. It looked as if they had hit upon a winning combination when they scored a major upset over Branford 20-6, midway through the season, but injuries to two starters during the following weeks of scrimmage left the team without tackles for the coming game.

Nevertheless, two Hallites made honorable mention in the all-state honors. They were versatile end, Tom McKeon and hard-rushing, Marty Loughlin. Lyman Hall tied Derby 6-6 in the opening game of the season and scored half the total points scored against undefeated Shelton this season.

The 1956-57 Lyman Hall High School basketball team got off to a slow start but ended strong, winning its last five games, and seven out of its last eight regular season games. The Hallites qualified for the tournaments but were eliminated by Seymour after an impressive 73-46 win over Woodrow Wilson in the qualifying round.

Another highlight during the season was a 52-47 upset over East Haven after the latter had won 92 consecutive regular season games.

The overall record was 13 wins and 7 losses.

and This Is Our Population

There are 800 pupils, 2⅓ times as many as the 300 who first entered Lyman Hall High School in 1917. You see the school as a community where nationalities and personalities blend or clash. For each individual there is an interest, giving rise to sundry clubs, sports, formal dances. You'll always see a student teacher experimenting or an alumnae returning to Lyman Hall High, a friendly place, not too small for celebrities to visit, not too large for a shy freshman — just right.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Anyone passing Lyman Hall High School on a certain eventful day in September, 1953, might have imagined the day to be one of wrack and ruin to the dejected group assembled on the stone steps. The feigned smiles of bravery didn't help to bolster one's courage as the class of '57 began its intriguing and somewhat frightening journey into the ancient edifice.

Our freshman year was a whirl of two-minute intervals between classes, new faces, new schedules, and new school customs. We were introduced into the social whirl by the Freshman Hallowe'en Party where, led by Elaine Pagni's sparkling repartée as Mistress of Ceremonies, we enjoyed an evening of delightful entertainment, including a T.V. stunt show involving Diane Ives, Ted Runge, Richard Ullman and Janet Orefice. Prizes were awarded to Lynne Konopka for the prettiest costume, Gerry Smith, the funniest; Pat Regan and Bev Tarrant (the Old Gold Cigarette Pack), the most original; with Judy Fucci and Julie Svab stealing the show for the most beautiful. With the election to the Student Council of Don Johnson, Ted Runge, Bill Yale, Paul Peck, Judy Fay, Maureen Sheehy, Joan Chandler, and Arlene Jacek as our representatives, things became quiet as we settled into the routine of high school life and before we knew it, June arrived and summer vacation was upon us.

With a full year of experience behind us, we once again entered Lyman Hall, as Sophomores. Jim Granucci got right into the swing of things by becoming one of the associate editors of the literary issue of the Chronicle. Bill Fritz, Tom McKeon, and Jack Priester revealed their adeptness at basketball by being accepted on the varsity squad. The Latin Club furnished a Roman setting; slaves, Caesar, laurel wreaths and all, at the Roman Banquet, where toga-togged citizens enjoyed the festivities of that ancient city. This festival was the last of the year and once again we faced the bright, carefree days of summer.

As Juniors we found ourselves beating our way to school in the wee small hours of the morning. We eventually became accustomed to rising with the sun and the list of tardy pupils became a little shorter. Our first important step was to elect the leaders to whom we would look to guide us in this important year. Our choice was wisely made as proved by the outcome of our election. Bill DeRoy was elected president; Dick Fanning, vice-president; Terri Wrinn, our competent secretary, and Mary Ann Lanzoni, financier.

After a heartbreaking basketball season marked by moments of crucial playing, elections were held for co-captains of the '56-'57 season. Jack Priester and Bill Fritz were the chosen two.

While we were reading such masterpieces of literature as "Tale of Two Cities," and "Romeo and Juliet," a committee of several of our classmates, headed by Terri Wrinn and including Eleanor Carr, Pat Regan, Richard Straub and Ellie Moslow among others, suggested our motto — "No Man is an Island;" our colors — blue and white; and our flower — the carnation.

Excitement reigned as we prepared for our first class formal, the Junior Prom. Under the admirable direction of Sue Rubin as general chairman and with the welcome assistance of our class advisor, Miss Reid, our Prom progressed under the soft lights of the revolving crystal ball in a delightful Broadway setting of "Moments to Remember."

Our next project was to elect the leaders of our Yearbook staff. Diane Ives was elected Editor-in-Chief and was aided by Judy Kapish, photography editor; Irene Zobrowski, business editor, and Nancy Tassmer, business co-editor; Janet Orefice, literary editor; Roseanna LaPlante, art editor and Carol Dubiell, art co-editor; Eddie Tramont, sports editor; and Carol Ann Woodtke, head typist. Plans were already being made for our own senior yearbook. The time was fast approaching and with this cheery thought in mind we bid fond adieu to our Junior year.

In September of 1956 we reentered Lyman Hall for our busiest and most important year. The first task the Class of '57 undertook was to elect the class officers, those hale and hardy souls who would hold the light which would illuminate our path in this momentous year. Ronny Theriault took the lead as President, followed up by Bill Fritz as Vice-President. The treasury was turned over to Dick Ullman and the ladies were represented by Mary Ann Lanzoni as secretary. After our Junior Prom, which had been such a success, we needed a good idea for the theme of the Senior Prom. Someone had a spectacular thought! "Check Mate." Terri Wrinn was elected general chairman, aided by Sue Rubin, invitations; Roseanna LaPlante, decorations; Sandy Warzeniak, band; Ellie Moslow, refreshments; Pat Regan, programs; and Joan Valentine, publicity. The high light of the evening took place with the crowning of Mary Ann Lanzoni, Queen, and Terri Wrinn and Maureen Sheehy, her attendants amidst a chess board setting.

Our football team enjoyed a successful season with fine playing on the part of Marty Loughlin, a driving tackle; Tom McKeon, end; Bob Zupko, quarterback; and Jules Yasensky and Jim Granucci, co-captains. We defeated our arch rivals, Branford and North Haven, tied Derby, and wound up with an overall record of two wins, one tie, and —— a few losses.

At this time the Senior class was primping up for their senior pictures, but a few were caught off guard in some real cute candids.

Sue Rubin was honored by her classmates with the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award for 1957.

The Girls' League-sponsored Formal, with the theme of "Fantasy in Green," was thoroughly enjoyed by all. It was under the general direction of Jean Carini.

Meanwhile, our basketball team was, to the joy of its many enthusiastic fans, compiling a fine record of 12 wins and 6 losses, which made us eligible for the State Tournament. In the first tournament game the playing was fast and furious as we walloped Woodrow Wilson in an outstanding performance. Jack Priester, high scoring ace, and Roy Ohr played great offensive ball while Bill Fritz and Tom McKeon picked off the rebounds. In the quarter-final game, however, Lyman Hall lost a heartbreaking game to another arch rival, Seymour High.

As the Senior Play Cast was chosen, many aspiring young actors stepped into the spotlight to portray the life and loves of a "Model Child" and her family and friends. New faces came to light as Phil Hax, Harold Hazen, Lynne McCarthy, Al Lovejoy, and James Hayes made their appearance in the dramatic field.

Spring arrived and with its balmy breezes came the season's favorite sport, baseball. John Gawlak, along with Fran Myers and Ray Morin, among others, led by co-captains, Jules Yasensky and Bill Fritz, enjoyed a successful season.

Now we are making plans for graduation and the final step into this changing world around us. Class Night and our Class Banquet have shaped up well under the direction of Eddie Tramont, general chairman of the Banquet, and Dick Fanning, general chairman of Class Night. We have selected our caps and gowns and the time draws nigh when we, the last Senior class to graduate from these beloved walls, shall step forth and show the world, despite the fact that so many friends must be left behind, "no man is an island." Each of us, in our own way, shall strive to make our world a better place in which to live, and, we feel, our combined efforts can do much in accomplishing this task.

Lyman Hall High School
June 20, 1957

Dear Classmates,

Although I have been with you for only a short period of time, I have grown very fond of Lyman Hall, and especially of the Class of 1957.

We have learned very much, both academically and socially and now the time has come for us to practice our acquired skills independently.

The world is in a crucial period. However, we have come to understand many of the social and economic problems confronting the youth of all nations of the world. As future leaders we must play our part in trying to solve these problems.

Classmates, we all have goals in life for which we are striving, and I feel sure that with hard work and God's help we shall attain these goals.

I am honored and very appreciative of having been able to serve as your class president and I wish to thank each and every one of you for your full co-operation. I wish you all the best of luck in attaining your goal, whatever it may be, and may God bless you and be with you in all your life endeavors.

Sincerely yours,
Ronald Theriault

SCHOOL SONG

Tune: Cornell Song

Lyman Hall, our well-loved high school,
Love we pledge to thee,
May we e'er be true and loyal
In the days to be.

Lyman Hall, our hearts re-echo
To thy ringing call.
May we love thee, honor, cherish.
Hail, dear Lyman Hall.

From your portals we may wander
Far o'er land and sea;
Yet our happiest, fondest mem'ries
E'er drift back to thee.

Through the years our songs shall echo;
Shall our voices ring.
Thine our highest praise and honor
E'er to thee we sing.

1957 GRADUATES

We heartily congratulate you, the members of the Class of '57, on the successful completion of your high school career.

Each year since the establishment of a High School in Wallingford, graduates have found employment at the Wallace factory.

The growth of Wallace is in large part a direct result of the help and inspiration provided by graduates of the original Wallingford High School and of Lyman Hall.
